In its seventh year, Infrastructure Week will be held from May 13-20, 2019.

Hundreds of organizations have signed up as “affiliates” (or participants) in Infrastructure Week 2019, and they are planning events across the country. From infrastructure-themed career days to briefings and receptions, there is something for everyone on the Infrastructure Week 2019 calendar.

Hashtag

If you’d like to participate on social media, Infrastructure Week 2019 is using the hashtag #BuildForTomorrow to promote our messaging and events. We also encourage participants to share a link to our website and tag us at @infraweek.

Pre-Written Tweets

We’ve also pre-written some tweets that you can use any time during Infrastructure Week:

- It’s @infraweek 2019! Let’s #BuildForTomorrow. Starting now. Learn more: infrastructureweek.org
- Without action, the next generation will be left with dangerous, unsafe infrastructure. It’s time to invest and #BuildForTomorrow.
- Solid infrastructure keeps our families safe. Let’s invest in their futures and #BuildForTomorrow. Visit infrastructureweek.org for more information.
- Across the country, infrastructure is crumbling. Let’s invest in ourselves and the next generation and #BuildForTomorrow.
- Investments in infrastructure creates jobs and helps our economy to grow. Let’s invest in future jobs and #BuildForTomorrow. Visit infrastructureweek.org for more information.
- Every $1 invested in infrastructure today adds $3.70 in economic growth. Let’s choose to invest in the economy, infrastructure, and #BuildForTomorrow.
- With nearly 500 affiliates, @infraweek 2019 is bigger than ever. Join us May 13-20 to tell our leaders in Washington and beyond to #BuildForTomorrow.
- If we want modern, fast, and reliable infrastructure, we need to invest. Let’s choose to invest in our communities and #BuildForTomorrow.
If you'd like to participate on social media, Infrastructure Week 2019 is using the hashtag #BuildForTomorrow to promote our messaging and events. We also encourage participants to share a link to our website and tag us at @infraweek.

Hundreds of organizations have signed up as "affiliates" (or participants) in Infrastructure Week 2019, and they are planning events across the country. From infrastructure-themed career days to briefings and receptions, there is something for everyone on the Infrastructure Week 2019 calendar.

We've also pre-written some tweets that you can use any time during Infrastructure Week:

Social media infographics with stats about job creation, broadband capabilities, water systems, aviation, and more are available at infrastructureweek.org/shareables — use our content or create your own!

Social Media Graphics

Every billion dollars in federal investment in infrastructure supports 13,000 American jobs.

U.S. airports have an estimated $100 billion in infrastructure investment need through 2021 to accommodate passenger & cargo growth.

Time for an upgrade! 11% of highway bridges in the U.S. are classified as "structurally deficient."

#BuildForTomorrow. Starting now.

If you need any assistance, contact:
Abigail Gardner • Communications Director • agardner@infrastructureweek.org